

Columns and Pilasters

Columns are structural elements with proportional and decorative features.

Today many ornamental columns are formed from fibrous plaster and GRG (Glass Reinforced Gypsum).

Ornate Interiors can supply complete interior free-standing columns or half-columns which can be attached to a wall to create a grand impression.

Columns are generally installed beneath arches to enhance the feature visually.

“Ornate Interiors continues to deliver products to a consistently high standard. It is important for us as a principal contractor that our sub-contractors have the same ethos about quality and levels of customer service. If all of our sub-contractors were like Ornate Interiors, our job would be much easier”.

Mr. Vernon Carter – Managing Director, William Anelay Limited, York – Main Contractor

“Over the last fifteen years I have worked with Ornate Interiors, whose work is renowned on some of the most prestigious projects. My work in Royal Palaces, Cathedrals, Stately Homes and Civil Buildings restoring historic interiors has required the highest standards of craftsmanship and they have never let me down”.

Mr. Dick Reid – Wood & Stone Carver

“The quality of workmanship and dedication of your staff to the work in hand was recognised by the client and ourselves from the initial stage. This only encouraged us to design more and more ceiling cornices, friezes, ribbed vaulting and roses etc., to the extent that the end result is a triumph in stuccadores art”.

Mr. David Sheehan – Sheehan & Barry, Dublin – Architects
